

WRITERS READ UKIAH

PRESENTS

MARK MCGOVERN

Rumor has it that after years of wandering California's Mojave Desert, Mark McGovern has withered like a tumbleweed and blown away. Not true. The retired retail clerk thrives in Ukiah, CA. Born in Detroit, MI, Mark grew up in San Francisco's East Bay. He has a raucous laugh that comes easy and often despite a debilitating neurological disorder. He has authored two volumes of poems, When My Hat and Loose Dogs on the Freeway, and a book of flash fiction, Boom and Other Loud Noises.

GRACE HUDSON MUSEUM

THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 2022

7 PM: FEATURED READING

8 PM: OPEN MIC

431 South Main Street, Ukiah, CA 95482

Suggested donation: $5, Refreshments provided.

For Information, contact Writers Read Ukiah MC Michael Riedell, innisfree@pacific.net.

Writers Read happens on the last Thursday of most every month and has been happening in Ukiah since 1999. This reading series is sponsored by Colored Horse Studios, an anonymous local writer, Michael Riedell, Dan Barth, the Poet Laureate Committee of Ukiah, the Grace Hudson Museum and donations.